

Acorn Woodpecker

(Melanerpes formicivorus)

Because of the dense yet spongy bone tissue surrounding its brain, the Acorn Woodpecker is able to withstand the constant drilling of holes without inflicting brain damage.

Acorn Woodpeckers love to nest in Sycamore Trees.

