CA Natives Series

Bottlenose Dolphin

(Tursiops truncatus)

Although dolphins can hold their breath for up to seven minutes, they come up every few minutes for air unless they are sleeping.

Crystal Cove State Park, located in Southern California, is one of the top Bottlenose Dolphin breeding grounds in California.

